Athens

The Embassy and our network of services in Greece

What we do, how we do it; our values, our plan.

Our role

British Embassy
Athens

The British Embassy in Athens represents the British government in Greece.

Its role is to liaise with the Greek government and institutions on behalf of British government departments and official bodies and to deliver the British international priorities in Greece.

From a wide range of European and regional issues to tackling international terrorism, coordinating efforts to combat illegal migration, addressing climate change and providing the help British citizens need in Greece, our interests very often coincide.
